

John Q. Cook, M.D.

“ Our goal is to enhance or restore the intrinsic beauty which is present in each individual, rather than create a result that appears ‘surgical’. ”

Dr. John Q. Cook’s approach to plastic surgery is based on an artistic philosophy that emphasizes the careful study of beauty in natural forms. Our practice goal is to achieve a soft and natural result in all the work that we do. We commit our surgical focus to three primary areas: facial rejuvenation surgery, breast surgery, and advanced body contour surgery.

Dr. Cook’s educational and professional credentials demonstrate his commitment to excellence: B.A. from Yale University, M.D. from Northwestern University, and eight years of advanced training at Rush Presbyterian-St. Luke’s Medical Center and Northwestern Memorial Hospital. Dr. Cook also received a Master’s Degree in surgical research. Since 1988, Dr. Cook has been in independent private practice on the staff of Rush Presbyterian-St. Luke’s Medical Center. He is certified by the American Board of Plastic Surgery and is a member of The American Society of Plastic Surgeons and The American Society for Aesthetic Plastic Surgery.

Dr. Cook appears in numerous “Best Doctors” listings, including Chicago Magazine, the Castle Connolly Guide, and The Consumers Research Counsel of America Guide to America’s Top Surgeons.

Our commitment to personalized and discreet service is reflected in our choice of practice settings, an historic house in Chicago’s Gold Coast and a vintage stone building in Winnetka.
